The 5 minute
breast cancer check.
Do you have the time?

Five minutes. Once a month. In the privacy of your own bedroom. Find the time to check yourself for any early sign of breast cancer.

Thousands of women are being saved because their breast cancers are detected early.

Ask your doctor about this important self-examination. Or, the American Cancer Society in your community will send you, by return mail, all the details of this simple breast cancer check.

It may take a few minutes of your valuable time to drop us a line.

But if we didn't think your time was valuable, we wouldn't be asking you to write.

It makes sense to give yourself the five minute breast cancer check.

It makes sense to give to the American Cancer Society.
