AIMS AND SCOPE

The field of cancer metastasis has recently undergone a renaissance. New and exciting data on the pathogenesis and treatment of metastasis are now being generated.

Cancer Metastasis Reviews is a new review journal which aims to provide critical perspectives on new developments in this rapidly developing field. The reviews will emphasize both basic and clinical research, and include topics such as tumor progression, pathogenesis of metastasis, the metastatic phenotype, host factors that influence metastasis, new methods for studies of metastasis, and new developments in the diagnosis and treatment of metastasis.

An international Editorial Advisory Board consisting of renowned scientists in the field will select the contributions for Cancer Metastasis Reviews. Each year, members of the Board will recommend investigators whose work (recent or past) they consider outstanding, and will forward their names to the Editor, who will prepare a master list of nominees. The master list will then be presented to all members of the Editorial Advisory Board, who will evaluate each nomination. Those nominees receiving a majority endorsement of the Editorial Advisory Board will be invited to contribute to the journal. It is hoped that invitations to contribute to Cancer Metastasis Reviews will come to be acknowledged as an indication of excellence in the field.

Volume 1, 1982, will be published in four issues. The following papers will appear in Volume 1, Number 1:

1. Lymphosarcoma: Garth Nicolson
2. NK-Target Interaction: Christopher Henney
3. Role of NK Cells in Metastasis: Nabil Hanna
4. Tumor Dormancy: Frederick Wheelock
5. Tumor Progression: Robert S. Kerbel
6. Experimental Systems for Analysis of the Malignant Phenotype: George Poste
7. Chemotaxis and Metastasis: James Varani
8. Seed and Soil Revisited: Ian Hart
9. The Relationship Between a Primary Tumor and its Metastasis: Michael Feldman

AUDIOTAPING
ANNUAL MEETING of the
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR CANCER RESEARCH

St. Louis, Missouri — April 28-May 1, 1982

This year the American Association for Cancer Research will launch the new policy of providing audiotapes of the major events held at its 75th Annual Meeting in St. Louis, Mo. This follows the practice of the American Society of Clinical Oncology which will tape all of the major sessions at its annual meeting. Cassettes, supplied by Audio-Stats Educational Services, Inc., will be available at $9.00 per tape; discounts for multiple orders will be given. The following special sessions will be taped:

- Symposium: "Basic Mechanisms of Oncogenesis"
Chairperson: Peter M. Blumberg
- Symposium: "Monoclonal Antibodies in Cancer Diagnosis and Treatment"
Chairperson: Malcolm S. Mitchell
- Workshop: "Use of Gene Cloning and Sequencing to Study Cancer Induction"
Chairperson: Leila Diamond
- Mini-Symposium: Biochemistry — "DNA Damage and Repair"
Chairpersons: Richard B. Setlow and Bernard S. Strauss
- Mini-Symposium: Immunology — "Macrophage Functions"
Chairpersons: Evan M. Hersh and Malcolm S. Mitchell
- AACR/ASCO Joint Session: Clinical Investigations — "Newer Approaches to Cancer Research"
Chairpersons: Albert H. Owens, Jr. and Gerald P. Bodey
- Special Lectures: Clowes Award: George Weber
"Biochemical Programs of Cancer Cells and the Design of Chemotherapy"
Rosenthal Award: Gianni Bonadonna
"New Chemotherapeutic Strategies to Improve the Control of Hodgkin's Disease"
Rhoads Award: Stuart A. Aaronson
"Unique Aspects of the Interactions of Retroviruses with Vertebrate Cells"
Cain Memorial Award: John A. Montgomery
"Has the Well Gone Dry?"
- Presidential Address: Sidney Weinhouse, "Prometheus and Pandora: Cancer Research on Our Diamond Anniversary"

Tapes of the 75th Anniversary Program of the Association will also be available. The Anniversary Program, which is entitled "Historical Aspects of the Development of Cancer Research in the United States," will be chaired by James A. Miller and will include presentations by former AACR presidents, Hugh J. Creech, Michael B. Shimkin, and Harold P. Rusch.

Orders for tapes may be placed at the time of these meetings or, subsequently, through Audio-Stats Educational Services Inc., 3221 Carter Avenue, Marina del Rey, California 90291.
